How much would it be worth to you?

- Meeting with peers across the country to openly chat about anything that might save you money, increase your productivity, or bring more business to your doorstep.
- Having your voice heard by your Congressional Representatives.
- Access to a report that can be used to defend your compensation to the IRS.
- Knowing you are a part of the Association that has developed the first ever Skill Standards program for our industry in the US.
- Access to advice and information when OSHA is knocking on your door.
- Understanding how your business is affected by global economics and what you need to do to survive in today's challenging environment.
